The provincial expenditure on public highways will be considerable in excess of one million dollars for this year. The last legislative appropriation for roads was one million, and this amount will be in addition to that which will be expended from general revenues on public roads.

Melville is advertising for a police chief and for one who won't use the funds of the town for his own personal benefit. Incidentally we might say that all towns in western Canada are after honest men at the head of the police department. At the present time, Wetaskiwin is not worrying about the honesty of her chief of police.

Weeds and How to Get Rid of Them

The broadest definition of a weed is "a plant out of place," but for all practical purposes, so far as general farm work is concerned, any plant which greatly reduces the yield or lowers the marketable grade of a crop by drawing moisture and fertility from the land may rightly be called a weed.

DEFINING NOXIOUS WEEDS

1. Vigorous growth; weeds of this nature crowd out the crop and absorb large quantities of moisture and fertility.
2. Production of large quantities of seeds; although the vigorous grower may often be easily destroyed, they keep the soil constantly filled with fresh seed.
3. Indestructibility of seed, the covering of certain seeds is so well protected with an oily coating, that it is enabled to remain in the soil for many years and still retain sufficient vitality to germinate when it is brought to the surface of the soil.

4. Tumbling habits, certain weeds break off readily at the ground and roll over the land with the wind, distributing seeds as they go.

5. Creeping root-stocks; many weeds, such as Perennial Sow Thistle, Canadian Thistle, Bindweed, etc., are propagated by means of underground stems as well as by seeds. These root-stocks are difficult to destroy and spread with remarkable rapidity through the soil, sending up new shoots at short intervals, which soon cover the ground and choke out the crop.

Methods of Distribution.

Most of the noxious weeds found in the province have been introduced from other countries. They have been brought in and distributed in various ways.

1. BY THE WIND

Weeds seeds are carried by the wind in the summer and by drifting over snow in winter. The seeds of such weeds as Blue Litter, Sow Thistle (annual and perennial), Canada Thistle and the dandelion have lifts of silky hair attached to them, by means of which they are readily conveyed from one place to another by the wind. Many plants on accounts of their spherical habit of growth and the tenacity which they have to break off at the base of the stem such as tumbling mustard, Russian Thistle, and Tumbling weed, are rolled along the ground by the wind and their seeds distributed in this way.

2. BY ANIMALS

Cattle, horses or swine allowed to feed on grain containing weed seeds will distribute the seeds unharmed in their excrement as the germinating power of weed seeds is not destroyed in passing through the intestines of these animals. Great care should be taken to prevent cattle feeding on screenings left by the threshing machine. These screenings should be burned immediately or buried so deeply that they will give no trouble.

Many kinds of weed seeds attach themselves by such means as barbed hairs, spines, gummy secretions, etc., to hair or wool of passing animals, and are thus carried from place to place.

3. BY WATER

Streams aid greatly in distributing weeds and great care should be taken to keep the banks of streams and irrigation ditches clean.

4. BY MEN

Man is largely responsible for the distribution of weeds chiefly through the agency of impure seeds, feedstuffs, railroads and farm implements.

Sowing grain that is infested with weed seeds has caused the greatest distribution of weeds. Every farmer should possess a fanning mill and thoroughly clean his seed grain.

Many weeds have been brought to this province in the fodder and litter used by imported stock in transit, and also by railroad contractors importing feed infested with noxious weeds. They thus get a start along the right-of-way and soon spread to neighboring farms.

Weeds are spread by threshing machines, grain racks and various kinds of farm machinery. Great care should be taken to clean implements when moving from an infested field to one that is clean.

CLASSIFICATION

To exterminate weeds it is necessary to be familiar with the habits of growth of the particular plant, to be destroyed the character of the soil and the state of the weather are also important features to be considered.

Weeds may be considered as belonging to one of the following classes:

Annuals, or one year plants, bloom in one or two year plants; perennials, or many year plants. The method of eradication depends to a great extent upon the class to which the weed belongs.

Annuals are plants that produce one crop and then die, and spread only by means of seed.

They usually have small fibrous roots. Wild mustard and lamb's quarters are examples. Any method of cultivation which hasten the germination of the seed and kill the young plants before they produce seed will, if continued, destroy weeds belonging to this class.

Winter annuals are hardy annuals that survive the winter and produce seed early the next summer. They are true annuals when the seed germinates in the spring, but when it germinates in the fall the young plants produced live through the winter and complete their growth the next spring. Tumbling Mustard and Hare's Ear Mustard and Stinkweed are examples of winter annuals.

Biennials are plants that require two seasons to complete their growth and seldom bear seed the first year, but store nutrient in their roots for the production of flowers and seed the next season. Tansy Mustard and Blue Bird are examples of this class. Any system of cultivation which will cut biennials below the crown will kill them. Frequent mowing before they flower will kill them, but a single mowing only causes the plant to become more branching and if not cut will produce a large quantity of seed.

ERADICATION

To destroy deep-rooted perennials, plow deeply, cultivate with a spring tooth cultivator and continue surface cultivation throughout the season with a sharp hand cultivator, every time plants throw up stems. Avoid cultivating land infested with perennials with a disc harrow as it will cut up the roots thus increasing the number of plants.

To destroy shallow rooted perennials, plow shallow, use deeply enough to go below the roots of the plants and then cultivate thoroughly with a spring tooth cultivator, turning up many roots as possible to the surface, where they will be destroyed by the sun. Continue surface cultivation at frequent intervals to prevent the plants from producing seeds.

WEEDS OF ALBERTA

In combating perennials it is advisable to let the plants grow until they reach the bud stage and then mow with a mower as close to the ground as possible before plowing. The first growth of the plant is produced largely by drawing on the store of nourishment in the roots. The plants are then in a weak condition and should be cut before they have time to replenish the supply of food in the roots of the plant.

SUMMER FALLOWING

Summer fallowing is considered essential in a large portion of Alberta by the most successful grain growers for the purpose of storing the moisture from one year for the production of a crop the next season. There are portions of the province where it is advisable to summer fallow every alternate year and portions where once in three is sufficient; and then again there are large areas where summer fallowing for the conservation of moisture is not necessary. This is accounted for by the difference in the soil and the variation in rain fall.

Summer fallowing is one of the best methods of destroying weeds, as soon as the grain is harvested to the land should be disced just as soon as the grain is harvested to germinate the weed seeds that are on the surface.

Cultivate once or twice in the spring, plow in June and cultivate the land at intervals throughout the summer, never allowing the weeds to get so large that the harrow will not destroy them.

Where it is not practicable to summer fallow, disc the land as soon as the crop is harvested and cultivate again in the spring. Plow in June and seed to green feed, cutting the crop before the weeds are ripe.

A crop rotation, including green feed and hay, as well as the cereal grains assist very greatly in holding the weeds in check.

SHEEP DESTROY WEEDS

It is unfortunate that sheep are not kept more generally throughout the province as they would prove a very important factor in keeping the farms free from weeds. "When an abundance of succulent pasture of the finer grasses is provided, weeds can scarcely be said to be favored by sheep as a staple part of their diet. Sheep will, however, even when good pasture is provided them, vary their diet by nipping off seedling plants or the fresh growing parts, and the bloom with its contents of sweets from older plants of many of our common weeds. When their diet is depleted, sheep feed readily on Wild Mustard, Ox-eye, Daisy, Yarrow, Plantain, Perennial and Annual Sow Thistle, Wild Vetch or Tare, Dock, Sorrel, Lamb's Quarters, Milkweed, Ragwort, Burdock and Shepherd's Purse. In fact there are few weeds that sheep will not eat, to the extent of preventing them from seeding, if there is not enough of their favorite grasses to satisfy them it is only when their supply of food is unusually short that sheep will feed on plants having leaves and stems covered with bristly hairs or spines, or with a flavor that is obnoxious to them. When the plants are young and tender, however, sheep have been observed to eat such weeds as rig weed, Blue Weed, Cockle, Oranbe Hawkweed, Hound's Tongue, Stickweed, Mullein, Canada Thistle, Stinkweed, Toadflax and others that are bristly or have a pungent flavor. Thorough cultivation with a system as rotation of crops, combined with the maintenance of as many sheep as can be kept to advantage, is a certain and profitable means of keeping weeds under control."

Pasturing the summer fallow with sheep has given good satisfaction in many parts of the Province. The sheep pack the soil, thus conserving the moisture and keeping down any weeds which escape the cultivation during the summer.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

"The best time to destroy weeds is within two or three days after the first pair of leaves has formed on the seedling plant. In friable soils the 'weeder' is a useful implement for that purpose. The 'tilling' harrow is also satisfactory for comparatively loose soil and is preferred as a 'weed destroyer' on firm or clayey land. Weeds are irregular in time of germination and consequently it may be necessary to harrow cereal grains several times before they reach a height where the harrow will damage the grain.

For perennial weeds or seedlings that have become well rooted, a cultivator having 'diamond' shaped or other relatively broad shares is needed for hoe crop. The 'disc' is a favored implement for destroying weeds in summer-fallow or in preparing a seed bed. When, however, it is desired to unearth and remove the root-stocks of perennial weeds such as Couch Grass, a narrow toothed cultivator, that will loosen the soil and bring the underground vegetation to the surface, is preferred to an implement that will cut the root stocks, the small cuttings of which may be exceedingly persistent in growth.

One Dollar Down AND One Dollar Per Week

For five years pays for an improved fruit tract in B. C. At the end of the five years it should bring you in $500 to $1,500 per year.

ACTUAL GOVERNMENT REPORTS FOR THE KOOTENAY LAKE DISTRICT SHOW GREATER RESULTS FROM ONE ACRE

There is hardly a man, woman or child in the United States or Canada who cannot afford ONE DOLLAR PER WEEK to establish a home in an ideal country like the famous Kootenay Lake District. In five years a clear title to one acre of improved bearing orchard is delivered to you or your heirs.

I have set aside five hundred acres of choice fruit land, and as soon as I have sold that out your opportunity is lost. I want every man, woman or child who reads this ad. to send in their dollar at once and secure an acre tract on the above terms. Write for full particulars of the best offer ever made to those who wish a home in an ideal climate, where you will have honest and congenial neighbors.

I sell five, ten and twenty acre tracts on very easy monthly payments. Also give a big discount for cash. Join one of my monthly excursions and see the country for yourself. July 20 and August 30 are my next two dates. A big bunch went June 27—bought from me except two. Pretty good evidence that what I am offering is right, isn't it? I have sold to several hundred people since January 1st. I live there myself. Have my own fruit ranch on the shores of the beautiful Kootenay Lake. I WANT YOU FOR MY NEIGHBOR IN B. C., and I am sure you will want to be when you see the country. My new way to grow apples will interest you. Also the famous Kootenay Magazine tells all about the fruit and other industries of Southern B. C. Subscription price $2.50 per year or sent free for year on receipt of twenty names of friends or relatives who might be interested in B. C. fruit lands. My booklet, "HOMESPEAKING," tells you how I spent five years in the West looking for what we all want—an ideal location for a home. It's free.

Write to-day giving name of reliable references, your nationality, and amount you wish to pay.

TESTIMONY AS TO THE EFFICACY OF
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
BOILS

Mr. D. M. McBlaine, Niagara Falls, Ont., writes: "It is with pleasure I testify to the sterling qualities of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After the Boer War, through which I served in the 1st I. L. I suffered from boils, constitution, and sick headaches, and tried many preparations, but got relief from none till an old comrade of mine
got me to try the Burdock Blood Bitters.
To say I got relief is to put it mildly. It made me myself again, viz., a man who knows not what it is to be sick, and who has been, and is still, an athlete."
"To anyone in want of purified blood and the resultant all round vigorous health, I can conscientiously recommend

WEANING PIGS

Pigs should not be weaned until they are at least eight weeks old and a sow is not to have another litter, or if there is time enough in cast
she is, it is better to let the pigs suckle until they are ten or twelve weeks old. Farmers often get in a hurry and wean pigs when six weeks old, but unless there is an abundant supply of milk, and especially good milk, a strong digestion and can turn cave given, the pigs are likely to be come stunted, sometimes so severely that they never recover.

The cheapest way to put gains on young pigs is through the sow. She course grains and pastures into easily digested milk. The sow should be fed to produce a high yield of milk and the pigs should be kept with her until they are eating a fair ration of grain.

Pigs will begin to nibble at feed when they are about three weeks old. At this age they should be given a little milk in a trough separate from the mother. After they are drinking the milk freely, add a little soaked whole grain—Barley, wheat or maize.

BINDER TWINE NOT SERIOUS PROBLEM

Emphatic denial is given by the binder twine companies and distributors in Winnipeg to reports current that an increase of one cent a pound in binder twine had been made or was in contemplation.

The greatest handlers of twine in western Canada, and the United States,
the International Harvester company, are equally emphatic in asserting that they can meet the demand from every source for twine. They assert that there is not a point in western Canada that has a shortage of a single pound, and they further assert that have enough in view and in reserve to provide for every contin-gent of the market.

They express themselves confident that the demand and supply will be found to correspond. The only trouble will be that farmers will not be able to stock themselves up with a complete supply before starting to cut their grain as they have been accustomed to do.

SNAP JUDGMENT

There came to town a rather and lonesome looking pup, a Spitz. Some fellow yelled: "That dog is mad!"

And then we all threw sundry dry fits. We never rounded up the skate to ask him where he got his facts; we passed not to investigate
but slammed the pup with cataracts of bricks and rods and sticks and tiles, and kept the poor beast on the jump; we chased him twenty-seven miles and killed him by the village dump. And then his owner came a long and proved to us his dog was naive; we'd done a great and cruel wrong, and on the village placed a burden. For divers days remorse has burned our unwarlike, that such things should be; and yet I doubt if we have learned a lesson from this jamboree. Tomorrow someone may assert that "Snaps or Jimsons" is a cruel and then we'll all jump on his frame and try his little goose to cook.

We'll found our victim from the start,
refuse to list to his defense, and take his hide and break his heart and make him feel like twenty cats.

Just give a dog a bad name," the adage says, "then string him up,"
be human or a pup Walt Masen.

A telegram was received by the school Board from M. O. Nelson on Monday that he had been appointed Inspector of Schools. This is a position well earned by Mr. Nelson as he has an excellent record as a principal and is one of the old time teachers in the Province. The severance of his connection with the Stettler school will be a matter of much regret with pupils and parents, but he will be in even better position to do good work for the district in his new office. The appointment of an inspec-

If present weather conditions con-least 50,000 men to harvest this year's crop.

Preparations are now being made prairie provinces. It is estimated that over 50,000 men will be required and in all six excursions will be run

leave Montreal August 16th, and the remaining four from Toronto August in the west, the crops might be expedited by warmer weather but that in other respects the general outlook is favorable. The reports of train agents in the several districts

are as follows:

Regina Branch—Weather cloudy,
crops in fine condition.
Third District—Several heavy rains over the whole district have furnished plenty of moisture. Crops have done well so far but dry wa- weather is now needed. What is beginning to head in some localities.

Fourth District—We have had several showers on the fourth district every day of this period. Weather now cooler. Present conditions are as favorable to the crop as would be possible.

Sixth District—The crop conditions are excellent and far superior to this time last year. There has been enough rain. What is required is a stretch of warm weather as the wheat is heading out fast.

THE BUSINESS OF THE NEWS-PAPER
The forthcoming amalgamation of The Galt Reporter and The Galt Reporter, under the name of the Reporter indicates that the financial strain in even such a newspaper-loving town as Galt is too great to be endured. Few newspapers are being started nowadays, and a good many of the favorites of former periods and it hard to keep afloat. It costs more and more every year to make a good newspaper, and the revenues do not increase in anything like the same ratio as the expenses. A somewhat radical adjustment is almost inevitable. In the magazine field it is already under way. Some of the financial failures have been wiped out and others are greatly curtailing the frenzied spending of former years.

Born—On Tuesday, August 19th, to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shea, a daughter. Congratulations.

In accordance with the usual custom, August 23, the opening day of duck shooting has been declared civic holiday and will be observed by Camrose citizens.

The directors of the Camrose Agricultural Society have made arrangements to have the use of the skating rink for industrial exhibits in connection with the fall fair on October 1 and 2. The ground space of the rink is being levelled off and spread with saw dust so as to make it desirable in every way for exhibition purposes.

There can be no doubt that, the new Municipal Act has entirely failed to satisfy the farmers of this district. The legislature realized when framing the act that more or less experimenting would be necessary before an acceptable and workable scheme would be evolved. For this reason the act was made optional, and every district is free to choose for itself without any dictation or interference from anyone.

There are many farmers who believe that some change is necessary in order that the improvement of roads and the development of the rural districts may be pushed more rapidly. Many of these are willing to support the act, even though they do not like it in all its details, in the hope that the desired amendments may be secured from time to time. The majority, however, are not prepared to take any chances and want the amendments made before they have anything to do with the new order of things.

SPARKLING WATER, cool and sweet, refreshes the farmer who builds a Concrete Well or Tank

THE FARMER, above all others, appreciates good water. He drinks more water than the city man. The city-dweller is dependent upon the public water-supply for the purity of his water, while the farmer can have his own private source of water, and thus be sure that it is pure and healthful.

MAN hasn't found a better drink than cool water, properly collected and stored. But in order to keep water fresh and pure, a tank or well casing that will keep out every possible impurity must be used.

CONCRETE IS THE IDEAL MATERIAL FOR TANKS AND WELL-CASINGS.

IT is absolutely water-tight, protecting your water from seepage of all kinds. It cannot rot or crumble. It is easily cleaned inside. Time and water, instead of causing it to decay, actually make it stronger.

There are scores of other uses for concrete on your farm—on every farm. If you would like to know of them, write for our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." The book is absolutely free.

POINTERS ON KILLING A TOWN

Buy from pedlars as much and as often as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make profits on their goods.

Glory in the downfall of the man who has done much to build up your town.

Make your town out a bad place with extortion. If a stranger comes stab it every chance you get.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people.

Tell your merchants that you can buy goods a great deal cheaper in some other towns and charge them to town. Tell him everything is overdone and predict a general crash in the future.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your town and then denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the city newspapers.

If you are a merchant don't advertise in the home paper, but compel the editor to go elsewhere for advertisements, and howl like a sore-head because he does so. Buy a rubber stamp and use it, it might save you a few dimes and make your letter-heads and wrappers look as though were doing business in a one horse town.

If you are a farmer, curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth. Talk this over with your neighbors, and tell them the men are robbers and thieves. It will make your property less valuable, but you don't care.

Miss Ethel Behrens has accepted a position on the teaching staff, of the Alexandra school in Wetaskiwin.

Reports received from various points in the Wetaskiwin district indicate that wheat and barley crops are ripening fast and will be harvested in a few days if weather conditions remain favorable. All farmers are looking forward to a record harvest.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The C.P.R. line from Calgary to the coast, which will probably absorb a large part of the new issue of stock, if not will establish a great line of ships on the whole of it.

WIFE FOUND DEAD HUSBAND IS SUSPECTED

Edmonton, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Aurilla McGuicken, 27 years old, wife of Philip McGuicken, a rough carpenter, employed by Pat Burns, was shot killed early last evening at the home, one-half mile north of the plant here. The police have clue to the identity of the murderer. According to McGuicken, he the dead body of his wife lying pool of blood in the kitchen on turn home from work shortly six o'clock. There was a bullet under her right ear.

The police were notified and investigation found a 38 caliber revolver bullet imbedded in the wall.

McGuicken was taken into custody until further investigation has made of the murder. The police endeavoring to ascertain his whereabouts about the time of the murder is supposed to have taken place.

Mr. and Mrs. McGuicken came from Plattville, N.Y. ten months ago and during that time he has been seen no police believe that would lead to the death of his wife.

SMUGGLING FINE ART

Smuggling is still a fine art at all times. Most of the smugglers are in tobacco and spirits. Smuggling tobacco is in strong request throughout the agricultural district of eastern Kent. It is hard, black, powerful and seems to suit the local palate. To the unaccustomed stranger it is not a pleasant smoke but many a man of Kent waits longingly for the arrival of a fresh supply.

COAST HARVESTERS FOR THE PRAIRIES.

Vancouver, Aug. 16.—Mayor Findlay has asked F.W. Peters, C.P. general superintendent to consider a suggestion that excursion trains be operated from Vancouver east to Moose Jaw or Brandon to take men from the coast to the prairie grain harvest. An answer is to be returned by the C.P.R. within a few days.

LOCAL FIRM CHANGES HANDS

Rumors have been afloat for some time that the firm of J.S. Dixon & Son was about to sell the stock and good will of their general store business here to W.R. Douglas, of Wetaskiwin. The report was authenticated this week, the purchaser being in town Monday evening. The transfer will be made about August 15th. Mr. Douglas will arrive in Strome Saturday evening, and stock taking will commence on Monday morning. This will take but a short time, as everything is in readiness. The transfer will then be made and Mr. Douglas and his associates will take possession of the business. J. S. Dixon & Son still retain their business at Hugheeden. They have not laid definite plans for the future as yet—Strome Township.
